Diabolo

Design: Mark Gabbertas

Mark came to the world of furniture design in a circuitous way having worked in advertising and then training as a cabinet maker, before establishing what is now regarded as one of the leading design studios in the UK. The intent is to create character through simplicity ...it is all too easy to shock, but much more difficult to please... through the rigorous pursuit of design that has both elegance and a lasting aesthetic. These are not fashionable concepts, but that is the point.

Diabolo

Diabolo table with Jonty stools

Diabolo is a collection of tables with a deceptive difference, available in four heights combined with four sizes of round tops. Created as a universally applicable range it will aptly accompany Drum, Jonty, and MIR seating ranges. Diabolo in its own right is a refined, pared back and elegantly simple table programme.

Low tables, side tables, dining height tables, and bar height poseur tables. The emphasis is on colour and the mix and match capability of the two elements of top with top section of column, and bottom section of column with disc base, offering the opportunity for both colourful as well as more sober combinations when called for.
